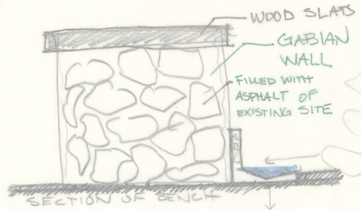
RE·MEMBERING:

NATURE AS COMMUNITY

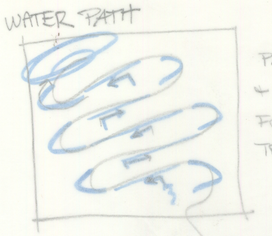
THE FOCAL POINT OF THE SITE LAYERS PLANTS OF ALL SIZES TO CREATE A MOMENT OF PAUSE, A PLACE OF LISTENING, AND A MICROCOSOM OF CONNECTION.

THIS SPOT ALSO ACTS AS A NATURAL PLACE FOR A SPEAKER WHEN LARGER GROUPS ARE GATHERED HERE.



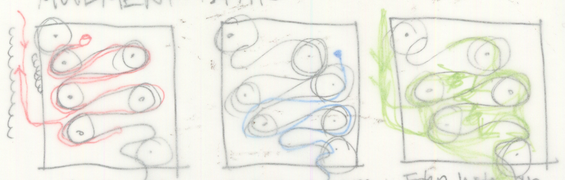
SECTION OF SITE @ BENCH

WATER PATH



PATH OF WATER
← WALKING PATH
FOLLOW SIMILAR TRADJECTORIES

MOVEMENT PATHS



A neighbor walking her dog discovers the grove.

A student arrives to read a book outside.

Eden hosts an event; many students and neighbors attend.

N

E

W

S

1" = 7.5'

← N

← 120' →

100'

Sycamore trees

Eco-kiosk

Beehouse

Sculpture/art

Community information board

Bat house

Trellis "gates" with flowering vines

Signage

Eastern Red Cedar

Asphalt pavers from existing site lead from road to entrance

Path detail:
Vertically-Seated river Stones give an intentional Walking experience: ripples

Summer

Winter

Plant Life

Big Trees - American Sycamore

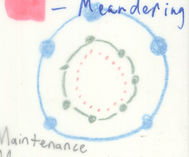
Smaller Trees - Maple (Red/Sugar)

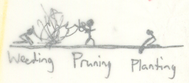
Flowers - Purple Cone-flower
Black-eyed Susans
Sunflowers
Trumpet Vines

Shrubs - Spice Bush
Rusty Black Haw

Grasses - Clover
Wild Rye

= Focus Ar
= Focus Tre
= Trees/unde
= Corner Nook
= Edge of spac
= Entrance Pa
= Meandering





Maintenance Cycles:
Seasonal
Monthly
Daily/weekly